Cassis Polo is a drop-shoulder sweater that harmoniously blends delicate lace, classic cables, and neat single ribbing. The generous, relaxed silhouette adds effortless style the more you wear it. The sample was created with approximately 29 cm (11.5”) of positive ease based on the bust circumference.The collar design sits close to the neckline, ensuring the front opening doesn’t gape excessively even without buttons, providing a comfortable and stable fit during movement.

This pattern is a written description that includes charts.
This sweater is worked Top-down.Begin with the Back shoulder slopes using short rows, then work down to the underarms.Pick up stitches from the shoulder lines to work the Left and Right Fronts.Join the Fronts and Back to work the Body in the round. CHART

HOW TO READ THE CHART

1. Checking Row Numbers
The numbers on the sides of the chart indicate the current row you are working. Usually, the number on the right represents odd-numbered rows (RS), and the number on the left represents even-numbered rows (WS).
If numbers and arrows are only on the right side, it indicates working in the round.

2. Reading Direction (Zigzag Rule)
When working flat (turning the work back and forth), remember the 'zigzag' direction. Right Side (RS) : Read from right to left. Wrong Side (WS) : Read from left to right.
When working in the round, both odd and even rounds are RS; read from right to left for all rounds.

3. Interpreting Symbols (As they appear vs. Reversed)
Basic Principle : The chart is a map showing how the work should look from the Right Side (RS) once finished.
Therefore, on the RS, follow the symbols as they appear. On the WS, you must work the opposite of the symbol to achieve the intended look on the RS. (e.g., If a "knit" symbol is on the chart, purl it on the WS so it appears as a knit on the RS.) However, if a symbol's meaning is not specifically distinguished between RS and WS in the pattern, work it the same way on both sides.
