

FIELDWAY SHAWL

Take a stroll through golden hills and winding paths with Fieldway, a light and airy shawl inspired by the long walks in Sonoma in the summer. This shawl takes advantage of elongated triangular shaping, allowing you to achieve a generous wingspan with just one full skein and a mini. It's a perfect stash-busting project that results in a wide, flowing, and easy-to-wear accessory.

Fieldway features a rhythmic mix of geometric lace, crossed stitches, and purl ridges. It is worked from the top down and can be adjusted for a different yardage simply by choosing when to stop at the final lace stripe.

Let the colors play. Let the stitches sing. And let Fieldway take you on a walk through sunlit California — no matter where you are.

CONSTRUCTION NOTES

- Make sure to check your gauge on a blocked swatch if you'd like to fit into the specified yardage and to get the size and drape similar to the sample.
- The shawl is knit flat with elongated triangular shaping. Throughout the pattern, RS rows have one increase along each of the shawl edges and two increases at the central spine. WS rows have one increase by each edge. This creates a piece with longer tips and narrower middle compared to a classic triangular shawl.
- The shawl starts with a garter tab which flows into garter edging - the first and last 3sts of each row are worked in garter stitch. The stitch in the middle of the shawl - central spine - is worked through back loop for tidiness.
- The pattern features several stitch patterns: single and double purl ridges, stockinette, simple lace, crossed stitches, and chevron lace. The final stripe (chevron lace) can be knitted to any desired width. It also creates a naturally wavy edge that can then be accentuated in blocking.
- Color used is noted in the name of each stripe. Color changes are also marked with ♡ symbol.
- You can increase/decrease the size of the shawl easily by deciding when to stop at the final chevron lace stripe.
- Tassels can be added for an extra touch of boho and to make corners look more polished.

PATTERN

SET UP

Cast on 4sts using MC and long tail cast on. Create a garter tab:

R1-6: knit all sts

R7 (RS): k4, pick up 3sts along the left edge of the fabric rectangle using three purl ridges as a guide, then pick up 4sts along the cast on edge //11sts

R8 (WS): k3, yo, k2, PM, p1tbl, PM, k2, yo, k3 //13sts

Mark RS of work with a removable stitch marker if desired. Continue with MC.

TOP OF THE SHAWL

This section is worked as a sequence of stripes in different textures.

Each RS row increases 4sts (one on each side and two in the middle) and each WS row increases 2sts (one on each side). Make sure to knit the first and last 3sts of each row rather loosely to prevent the edges from pulling in.

Read all charts from bottom up, right to left on RS and left to right on WS. Repeat boxed sections as many times as possible in every row.

BOTTOM OF THE SHAWL

This section of the shawl is worked in Chevron Lace using written instructions or the chart below. Continue in MC.

Repeat Rows 1-20 until you either almost run out of MC or are happy with the length of the shawl. Stop after completing any WS row and proceed to Finishing. Sample shawl has 2.3 repeats of a full 20 row sequence, or 46 rows of Chevron Lace.

To check stitch count after R20, add 60sts to the number provided after each row.

FINISHING

✂ Cut MC, attach CC. Work the last stripe in CC.

STRIPE 24: Double Purl Ridge, CC (full stripe increases 10sts)

Note that stitch counts are not provided here because they will all be different depending on where you stopped in the previous stripe.

R1 (RS): k3, yo, knit to M; yo, sl M, k1tbl, sl M, yo; knit to last 3sts, yo, k3 //+4sts

R3 (RS): k3, yo, purl to M; yo, sl M, k1tbl, sl M, yo; purl to last 3sts, yo, k3 //+4sts

BIND OFF

Bind off on WS very (!) loosely: p1, (slip this stitch back to the left needle, p2tog) until 1 stitch is left.

You might want to go up 1-2 needle sizes if you're a tight knitter to make the edge more flexible.

Video: <https://www.instagram.com/p/DLaLOjCRLkv/>

Cut yarn leaving a 4" / 10cm tail, pull it through the loop of the last stitch and tighten to secure.

BLOCKING

Weave in ends. Soak the finished item, then lay flat to dry.

Pin the shawl down, stretching it assertively to open up the patterns and shape it as a triangle with a straight line on top.

Use individual pins at the end of each "yo, k1, yo" column to give your shawl a wavy edge.

TASSELS

If you wish, make 2 tassels approximately 3" / 7.5cm long. Video: <https://www.instagram.com/p/CNMCcc6n1ni/>

Secure them at the corners of the shawl. Hide the ends of yarn strands you used for attaching in the tassels.

Enjoy!
